

Did you like the movie?

yes I did. I found this movie as interesting, the fact that the pictures are real makes it more attractive. The awful images are there to show the real atrocity of the World War I. The people who are talking are real soldiers so we listen with a lot of attention. It's great proof of this film ~~is~~ <sup>is true to life.</sup> ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> ~~real things,~~ this is a unique thing that I've never seen before.

Did you like the music? Why? Why not?

I liked the music: It is an incredible way to show the violence made to the soldiers during the World War I. Moreover, the sounds and the colours ~~that~~ <sup>which</sup> have been added change totally the scene. The music shows the terrible conditions ~~that~~ <sup>where</sup> the British soldiers were in. There were some things aged 17 or 18, that gives the feeling that they will think about it all their life.

Did you like the movie?

I liked the movie. It was interesting to know more about the first World War. What struck me most is the violence and the living conditions of soldiers which were difficult. The fact we can see the scenes in colours with the soundtrack make us live those moments truly. The movie was really moving and true to life. ✓

They smell not grow old

I really liked the film because the subject "World War 1" interests me, all the images are real, they are coloured and Peter Jackson used ~~used~~ the type of the soldier to recreate the real situation, all the sounds were added. The history of the soldier was well told. * What struck me most are the hard conditions like under feeding or the dirtiness or lack of sleep; this film was true to life. * The film is very sad because a lot died in glory to save our country.

Hercum Darnomard 3EB Did you like the movie?

Yes, I liked the movie but even if it is a scary thing that young people are dead for a war that wasn't worthy. Soldiers had good times even though they describe death in a scary way that it seems real (real). ✓

Yes, I liked the movie because ~~it~~ <sup>it</sup> is interesting and well told. I would have liked more dialogues between the characters in the movie usually. The film did a good job of explaining the situation of the soldiers during the war. I like the music so much evidence, I like the movie.
